Legacy to a St. Louis Woman. A romantic story was brought to light at St. Louis recently, which will be a piece of good fortune to Mrs. Anna hospital. About a year ago Central Missouri was agitated over the crusade trouble at Lathrop and the subsequent divorce of Rev. J. M. Carmichael from Mrs. Anna Carmichael. Mrs. Carmichael went to Clinton, and there obtained the right to change her name to Brown, stating in her petition that the name of Carmichael was a source of sorrow and was a detriment to her success in obtaining a living. She then went to St. Louis and obtained her present position. A few days ago John Morris, a wealthy bachelor of Johnson county, died, and when his will was opened it was found that he had left his entire fortune, amounting to $50,000, to Mrs. Brown for the reason that he thought she was a wronged and persecuted he knew her family he took great interest in the case and left the money to her for the purpose of fighting the case again in the courts and clearing

A PROCLAMATION.

It is a very glad incident of the marvelous prosperity which has crowned the year now drawing to a close that its helpful and reasuring touch has been felt by all our peoply. It has been as wide as our country, and so special, that every home has felt its comforting iffuence. It is too great to be the work of mall's power, and too particular to be the device of his mind. To tool, the be meficent and the all-wise, who makes the lid bors of men to be fruitful, redeems theil losses by His grace, and the measure o whose governing is as much beyond the thoughts of man as it is beyond his deserts the praise and gratitude of the people of this favored nation are justly due.

Now, therefore, I. Benfaunt Harrison president of the United States of America do bereby appoint Thursday, the 28th day of November, present, to be a day of joyful thanksgiving to God for the bounties of His providence, for the peace in which we are permitted to enjoy them, and for the pre-evation of these institutions of civil and religious liberty which He gave our fathers the wisdom to devise and establish, and us the courage to preserve. A Tombstone at Auction.

It is not often that a tombetone is offered at auction, but such an event occurred in St. Louis the other day. It was at an nuction of unclaimed railway freight, and the event gave the auctioneer a chance to be funny, and he improved it. "Now here is an article which every man should have," he said.

The preachers will tell you that you can not take your gold with you to the grave, but here is something that will be useful and ornamental after death. Now is your chance to prepare for death at a reduced rate. How much am I offered?" The bids were still uncertain and far apart, and the auctioneer changed his tactics. "If you have no use for it yourself it is an appropriate gift for certain acquaintances; it is such a pretty way of suggesting to a man the proper thing for him to do"—and so on. The "thing of beauty" finally went to a junk dealer.

Inhuman Treatment of an Intoxicated Soldier by His Captain at West Point, N. Y.—Compeled to Lie for Two and a Half Hours in the Stable Iard in a Heavy Rain Storm and Then Severely Punished Judicially.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Nov. 17.-A story of unusual treatment of a soldier at West Point is published in the Register here. Two cavalrymen returned one day last week to the barracks intoxicated. They had been off post "on pass." The first sergeant rightly sent them to the guardhouse, but when the commanding officer of the detach-ment heard this he ordered both men stable yard. It was raining hard at the no matter how severe the weather they were not to have shelter of any kind. They had no opportunity of recovering from their debauch, but were taken from the guardhouse to the stable yard in a wagon and there told to go to work. One of the men was able to do this, but the other was still too drunk. He fell and was unable to the year following the deposition of Dom Pedro and preceding the coup get up from the wet ground.
